SCAMS & ROGUE TRADER AIDE MEMOIRE FOR PROFESSIONALS AND VOLUNTEERS

Please keep this document handy to refer to should service users ask you for information or advice about scams and rogue traders and to signpost them to organisations that can help.

TELEPHONE SCAMS

Advice for Service Users

1. Never give personal or financial details to cold callers, no matter who they say they are.
2. Banks and the police will never phone to ask for account details like a password, PIN or card number.
3. Register for the FREE Telephone Preference Service (TPS) on 0345 070 0707 or www.tpsonline.org.uk; this will help stop sales & marketing calls from within the UK.
4. To check whether a call received is from a genuine organisation, call back using the phone number that's known to be correct, i.e. taken from a bill or the company's website, not the one the caller gives. Wait at least 10 minutes before making the call or use a different phone.
5. An answering machine can be useful for screening calls, as can features like Caller Display or Caller-ID which have been free since October 2018.
6. Ask the telephone service provider what blocking services it provides for no or low cost e.g. BT Call Protect, Sky Talk Shield, TalkTalk CallSafe or Plusnet Call Protect.
7. A call blocking device such as trueCall www.truecall.co.uk or CPR Call Blocker www.cprcallblocker.com/ can be useful especially for those with dementia or learning difficulties. Alternatively, if buying a new phone, consider one that has built-in call blocking technology.

Useful Organisations - Telephone Scams

INTERNET SCAMS / CYBER CRIME

Advice for Service Users

1. Create strong passwords by incorporating capital letters, numbers and special characters, like $, % or &, and by using at least eight characters. Think longer is stronger.
2. Consider using a password manager program, many are free and generate secure passwords.
3. Keep operating systems, apps and web browsers up to date.
4. Have security software installed and keep it updated.
5. Don't click on links or open attachments in e-mails, unless completely confident that the sender's e-mail address is genuine. Instead, visit the organisation's website directly or phone to check that the message is authentic.
6. When making payments on a website, make sure that the webpage uses a secure connection. The payment page's address should begin with https (s for secure) and there should be a tiny, locked padlock symbol at the end of the address bar.

MAIL SCAMS

Advice for Service Users

1. Don't reply to unsolicited mail e.g. lotteries and prize draw letters – instead, either return to sender, or forward to Royal Mail at FREEPOST SCAM MAIL.
2. Sign up for FREE to the Mailing Preference Service (MPS) on 0207 291 3310 or www.mpsonline.org.uk; this will help stop sales & marketing mail from within UK.
3. People who have been targeted by scams can become Scam Marshals (see <https://www.friendsagainstscams.org.uk/scammarshals>), who use their experience to talk to others about scams and/or send any scam mail they receive to the National Trading Standards Scams Team so that it can be used in future investigations and enforcement work.

Useful Organisations – Mail Scams

	Scam mail can be reported to Royal Mail by sending it to FREEPOST SCAM MAIL. Telephone: 0800 011 3466 E-mail: scam.mail@royalmail.com

ROGUE TRADERS / BOGUS CALLERS

Advice for Service Users

1. Make it a policy not to buy goods or services at the door. A yellow and black 'We're Not Buying It' sticker (available from your local library) can be useful in deterring doorstep callers. Not answering the door or deciding not to speak to someone is not being impolite.
2. Lock, stop, chain, check is useful to remember when someone calls to the door (but keep the chain off the rest of the time in case emergency services ever need to gain access).
3. Fraudsters sometimes impersonate officials like police officers or utilities workers so always ask for ID. Check the ID is genuine by calling a phone number you know to be correct (e.g. from a bill or genuine website), not one from the ID card presented. A genuine caller won't mind waiting for checks to be made. In the case of police officers ask for the name of the force and staff number and check this by phoning 101, the non-emergency police number.
4. Utility companies operate Priority Service Registers for their vulnerable customers, see <https://www.ofgem.gov.uk/consumers/household-gas-and-electricity-guide/extra-help-energy-services/priority-services-register-people-need>. Support offered includes agreeing a password that representatives of the company, e.g. meter readers, will quote to show they are genuine.
5. If work needs to be done, get 3 quotes from tradespeople recommended by friends or family, or through approved trader organisations such as Buy With Confidence and Safe Local Trades.
6. Consider registering for local ecops alerts at www.ecops.org.uk.

Useful Organisations – Rogue Traders

IDENTITY FRAUD

Advice for Service Users

1. Don't throw out anything containing personal or financial details without first using an inking roller stamp to camouflage it and/or shredding it.
2. If a bank or credit card statement or cheque book doesn't arrive, contact the company.
3. Check statements carefully and report anything suspicious straight away.
4. Redirect post for at least a year when moving to a new address.
5. Credit reference agencies like Callcredit, Equifax and Experian offer a service to alert people if there have been key changes to their credit files.

CASH POINT FRAUD

Advice for Service Users

1. If possible, get cash from a cash machine that's inside a branch, rather than on the street - consider getting cash by cashback if using a debit card in shops.
2. Take a look around. If someone's standing too close, just walk away.
3. It can be very hard to tell if a cashpoint has been tampered with, but, if there is anything obviously wrong, like a loose part, don't use it.
4. Always cover the keypad when entering the PIN and don't make it obvious which buttons are being pressed. Don't get distracted.
5. Keep a note of the card issuer's emergency number in your handbag or wallet. If the card is held by a cash machine for whatever reason, call the bank straight away to make sure it can't be used. If it's safe to do so, stay at the cashpoint until this has been reported.

REPORTING AN INCIDENT / GENERAL CONSUMER ADVICE

	It is really important that fraud is reported. Action Fraud is the central point of contact for doing this and for finding information about fraud and financially-motivated internet crime. If fraud is reported here a police crime reference number will be generated which can be very useful in pursuing a case. Telephone: 0300 123 2040 Website: https://www.actionfraud.police.uk
	If someone has received poor service or been treated unfairly by a trader when buying goods or services, the law gives him/her certain consumer rights. Citizens Advice can help explain these rights and what action to take next. They can also help with canceling a contract or switching energy suppliers. Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline: 0808 223 1133 Website: https://www.citizensadvice.org.uk/consumer
